Hilton Head Island

Hoft's precision leads to 3-shot win at Oldfield

No daring bunker shots or gutsy putts were needed. J.D. Hoft's steady dosage of fairways and greens worked just fine.

Playing nearly every hole to perfection with his driver and irons, Hoft avoided mistakes and cruised to a three-stroke win over Robbie Stilwell and Chandler Vilcheck at the 25th Hilton Head Amateur on Sunday at Oldfield Golf Club.

Hoft shot 3 under on his final round for a two-day 5-under 139, the only player under par both days. On Sunday, he kept bogey off his scorecard and collected all three birdies on par-5s, forcing challengers to produce a sub-60s score that never materialized.

"He played mistake-free golf," Vilcheck said. "It's fun to watch."

The stout 26-year-old won his first Amateur title in three tries in steady, borderline boring fashion. Hitting driver on every par-4 and par-5, Hoft hit 13 of 14 fairways in regulation. He stayed nearly as true with his approach shots, hitting 16 of 18 greens.

"It was a really low stress kind of round," said Hoft. "I didn't stuff it every hole, but I was in birdie range on pretty much all of the holes."

Hoft missed his fair share of those makeable birdies, including an 18-incher on No. 12 that lipped out and a 3-foot putt on No. 8, but he ignored those failures and capitalized on the par-5s. He drove the green in two and two-putted on Nos. 5 and 12 and sank an 8-foot putt on the 18th to capture the championship, one that came with little surprise.

Many in the final groups pegged Hoft, who started the day tied for first with Vilcheck and Dave Hambly, as the guy to chase.

"I had a lot of buddies here saying 'I'm going to come get (you),' " said Hoft.

No one did, and few even came close.

Relaxed Braver wins Heritage Junior in playoff

Sam Braver flashed the same sheepish smile all day for one reason: He never thought he could win.

"I was just hoping to get in the top three," he said.

Surprise.

The 17-year-old capped a torrid finish by birdieing the first playoff hole — producing his biggest grin yet — and topped Austin Cody with a final-round 5 under to win the American Junior Golf Association's Heritage Junior Championship on Friday at Hampton Hall Club.

He finished at 8-under 208 and was joined atop the leaderboard by Rebecca Durham, whose 2-under round propelled her past a struggling girls field on the final day for a four-shot victory at 1 under overall.

WORLEY AND CRAWFORD ATTEMPT TO DEFEND IN 30TH CAROLINAS WOMEN'S 4-BALL CHAMPIONSHIP

WEST END, NC - Blythe Worley of Greenville, NC and partner Laura Crawford of Lancaster, SC will attempt to defend their title when the 30th Carolinas Women's Four-Ball Championship is played Aug. 7-8 at Mid Pines Inn & Golf Club in Southern Pines, NC. Worley, the 2003 N.C. Junior champion, and Crawford, the 2001 S.C. Junior winner, scored a two-stroke victory over Dinah Plyler of Chapin, SC and Angela Hill of Charleston, SC a year ago on the Ocean Winds Course at the Seabrook Island Club south of Charleston. Worley and Crawford shot 66-63—129 to equal the tournament record posted by Page and Amber Marsh of Jamestown, NC in 1994. Two-time champions Patty Moore of Charlotte, NC and Lori Teague of Newton, NC came in a distant third, nine strokes off the winning pace. The veteran Moore, who has been named Senior Player of the Year the last three years and Carolinas Woman Player of the Year in 2004, will be shooting for her fifth Carolinas Women's Four-Ball title. She won in 1992 and 1993 with Terrie Foote of Mooresville, NC and with Teague in 2004 and 2005. Page Marsh of Jamestown, NC holds the record for most Carolinas Women's Four-Ball titles with six. She won in 1982, 1984 and 1985 with her mother Linda, in 1994 with her sister Amber, in 1998 with Marcy Newton and in 2002 with Karen Ferree. Marsh is not entered this year. The field for this year's championship consists of 56 teams, with another 15 duos in alternate status. The 36-hole stroke play championship will be held on the par-72 Donald Ross-designed Mid Pines Course, which will play approximately 5,500 yards. Mid Pines has previously hosted the 2002 Carolinas-Virginias Junior Team Matches, the 2003 Carolinas Women's Match Play Championship, the 2003 N.C. Senior Four-Ball Championship and the 2004, 2005 and 2007 Carolinas Father-Son Championship. For more information about the Carolinas Women's Four-Ball Championship at Mid Pines Inn & CC and other Carolinas Golf Association events, visit the Championship Home Page online at www.carolinasgolf.org.

6th MID-ATLANTIC CHALLENGE JUNIOR GIRLS TEAM MATCHES

WEST END, NC- The 6th Mid-Atlantic Challenge, which pits a team of eight junior girls from the Carolinas against an eight-player squad comprised of Virginians and Marylanders, is scheduled to be played Aug. 4-5 on the Country Club of North Carolina's Cardinal Course in Pinehurst, NC. Competitors earn their way onto the teams based on their performance in selected junior events throughout the year. Erica Creed of Colfax, NC is on the team for the third straight year, while Eleana Collins of Pinehurst and Rachel Uremovich of Hilton Head Island, SC will be making their second straight appearance. The Carolinas girls have won four times in the five-year history of the event, including the last three meetings. They prevailed by a 10-point margin at Independence GC in 2004, by a five-point margin at Pine Needles Lodge & GC in Southern Pines, NC in 2005, and by a four-point margin last year at Independence GC. The teams engage in one round of four-ball matches and a round of singles matches. One point is at stake in each match. The point is split if the match is halved. The Cardinal once consisted of a combination of holes created by Willard Byrd and Robert Trent Jones, but it was completely remodeled in 2001 by architect Arthur Hills. For more information about the 6th Mid-Atlantic Challenge and many other Carolinas Golf Association events, visit the Championship Home Page online at www.carolinasgolf.org.

Suggested Local Rules for Your Club

The Carolinas Golf Association urges all clubs to write and publish a list of local rules under the title “Notice to Competitors.” This allows members and guests at your club to observe better the USGA Rules of Golf.

Local rules are covered thoroughly in the 2004-2005 USGA Decisions on the Rules of Golf. Several questions about local rules are answered in decisions under Section 33-8. These decisions are listed on pages 434 through 447 of the 2004-2005 USGA Decisions book.

It is important to note that a committee or club cannot waive a Rule of Golf, such as a rule allowing competitors to use more than 14 clubs. A local rule must not violate the Rules of Golf. Many of the decisions listed under Section 33-8 describe situations that cannot be considered a local rule.

There are many local rules a committee or club cannot write. Many are popular but not allowed by the Rules of Golf:

- * Waiving the requirement to hole out in a stroke play or medal play event.
- * Creating a ball drop on the green side of a water hazard for a ball that fails to clear the hazard.
- * Agreeing to discontinue play because of rain.
- * Invoking a tree “root rule.”
- * Waiving the rule that penalized a player for a ball putted from the putting green that strikes the flagstick.
- * Stating that free relief is granted from bushes or trees that define yardage.
- * Defining part of a boundary (out of bounds) fence as an obstruction.
- * Allowing a player to drop a ball on the green side of a regular water hazard without crossing it with a stroke, no matter how many penalty strokes are applied.

Some important valid local rules are suggested below. You should include as many of these as practical in your “Notice to Competitors.” The CGA suggests you post your “Notice” in locker rooms, golf shop and/or first tee.

Local rules your club really should adopt

Embedded ball: “Through the Green” If you don’t adopt this rule, you cannot take embedded ball relief in the rough. “Relief for an embedded ball is through the green. The procedure is described on page 98 of the 2004-2005 Rules of Golf.”

Out of bounds Items used to define out of bounds (fences, stakes, roads, white lines, etc.) should be listed on your club’s local rules sheet. Be specific.

Water hazards Water hazards at your club should be defined. For CGA events, we describe the difference between identifying (the existence of a) water hazard and defining a water hazard:

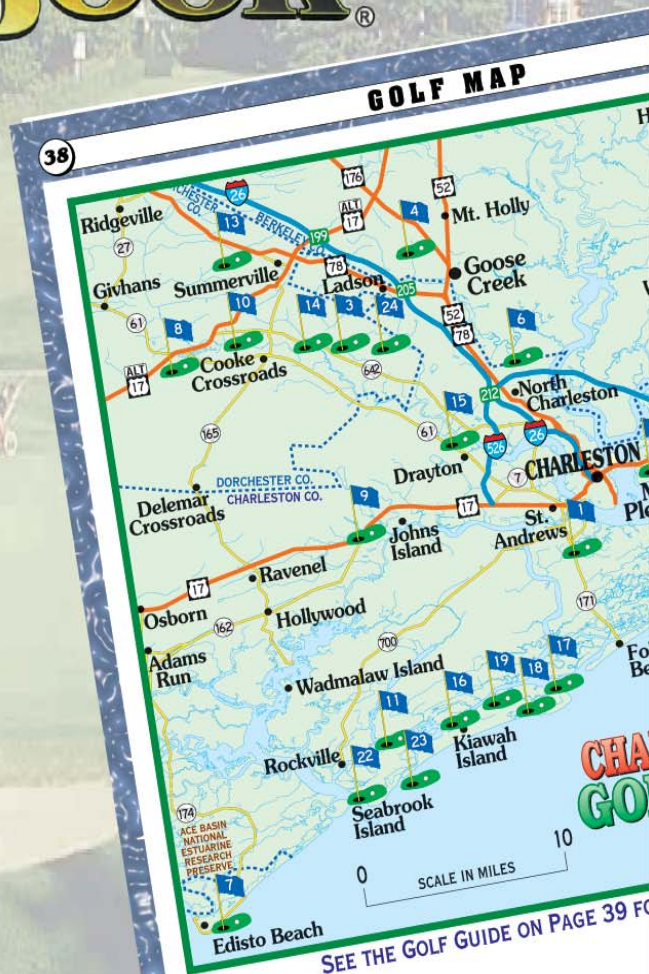

“Regular water hazards are identified by yellow stakes and defined by yellow lines. Lateral water hazards are identified by red stakes and defined by red lines.”

Because the CGA uses stakes only to identify hazards, they do not have to be located on the lines or inside the margin of the hazard.

Amateur Championship Heads to the Country Club of South Carolina

Florence, S.C. — Designed by Ellis Maples and opened in 1969, the Country Club of South Carolina has hosted its share of championships. Most recently the 2006 Junior Championship, Four Ball Championship in 2004 and the 2003 US Amateur Qualifier have been contested there. Now, CCSC is the stage and host course for the 76th Annual South Carolina Golf Association's Men's Amateur Championship. The dates are August 2-5 and will be played over the par 72 course that will measure 7,085 yards for the 2007 Championship.

The Country Club of South Carolina, set in the Pee Dee region of the state, provides a great challenge for the field of 137 amateurs. Dogwoods, azaleas and old oak trees line the course and protect the TiffEagle greens. The scenic lakes, Black Creek and 103 bunkers would test any golfer, but even more so during the Amateur Championship. Thirty five of those bunkers have been refurbished since early 2007. If players feel they need a little extra practice, a newly constructed, state-of-the-art practice facility was installed just three years ago.

Jeffrey Goff won the 2006 event, contested at Palmetto Golf Club in Aiken, SC. The Jackson native shot a three-under par four day score of 277. Goff received a scholarship to play at USC Aiken and will be returning to defend his title as State Amateur Champion. Some other past champions playing in this year's tournament include Bert Atkinson, Frank Ford III, Bubba Hightower and Gus Sylvan. The Country Club of S.C. should prove to have as much excitement as recent years with all of these great competitors and more in the field.

This year's field is highlighted by many players. As in recent years, the youth movement is making its presence felt. Of the 137-player field, 70 of participants are either 22 years of age or younger. Current SCGA Junior Champion and three time USGA Junior Amateur Qualifier Wesley Bryan is currently playing some great golf. Southeastern Amateur Champion, and the elder Bryan brother, George, IV is also a threat. Other hot players coming into the 2007 Amateur are Patrick Rada who is the SCGA Four Ball and CGA SC Match Play Champion, Phillip Mollica who just won the North-South Match Play Championship and Festival of Flowers Champion, Steve Liebler. Jordan Byrd, Clemson University's assistant golf coach will be in attendance after a runner-up finish in the 2006 SCGA State Amateur.

Family representation is another interesting aspect of this year's State Amateur Championship. Other duos that add to the Bryan brother pair include, Jonathan and Daniel Bowden of Easley, David and Robert Dargan of Blythewood, Cheraw's Baker and McCuen Elmore, Greenwood's Ben and Matt Martin and the Rody brothers of Tyler and Ryan from Spartanburg. The Todd family is represented by Walter Todd, son Walt Todd and nephew Thomas Todd, III. Chase Liebler, son of Steve and the other half of the Father Son winning team will participate. Finally the Glaze family is represented by Gettys Glaze, brother Lee and nephew Scott who plays for the College of Charleston.

Four qualifying events were held at various courses around the state during July. The first was held at Three Pines Country Club in Woodruff on July 10. Todd Hendley earned medalist honors after shooting a solid four under par 68. The second of four qualifiers took place at the Northwoods Golf Course on July 13. On a very hot summer day, Bamberg's Allen Koon, who also plays for the University of South Carolina, shot a three under par 69 to claim the victory. On July 16, Coosaw Creek Country Club held the third qualifier as we witnessed last year's Junior Champion, Jacob Burger, shoot a 67 to obtain the medalist title. And finally, Sunset Country Club in Sumter hosted the fourth and final of the qualifiers on July 18, where Michael Sims shot a qualifying best six under par 64 to sweep the field and take home the last medalist position.

The Amateur Championship is one of 18 SCGA statewide championships, 76 one-day contests, nine USGA qualifiers, seven 40-plus tournaments and five special events conducted by the SCGA. Results, schedules and applications may be accessed via the Internet at www.scgolf.org.

Jackie and Brent Parrish Wins 41st Carolinas Father-Son in Playoff

Foxfire Village, NC - Jackie and Brent Parrish birdied the first playoff hole to win the Carolinas Father-Son Championship at Foxfire Resort.

The Parrish team tied three other duos with a three-under par 69 before completing the playoff win.

The format is contested using a modified alternate shot format in which both players hit tee shots, select a ball, and then complete the hole with alternating shots.

The elder Parrish, Jackie, hold a 5-foot birdie putt on the first hole after son Brent threw a wedge to five feet. The Parrish's playoff birdie nipped the three other teams of Walker and Jackson Taylor of Wilmington, NC; Troy and Tyler Payne of Mt. Airy, NC; and Walter and Walt Todd of Laurens, SC.

"I have been playing with either of my sons, Jack or Brent, in this event for at least the last 15 years," said father Jackie, a former school principal. "It's really nice to win this finally."

Son Brent is the reigning Keith Hills Amateur champion.

The Carolinas Father-Son is a 41 year-old event played over five Pinehurst-area golf courses fielding over 600 golfers.

This event is conducted by the Carolinas Golf Association.

SC Junior Team Ends Losing Skid to Georgia Juniors

Graniteville SC -The final round of the 32nd Annual GA-SC Junior Team Matches concluded with the team from South Carolina winning by a three point margin over Georgia after Friday morning in Graniteville, South Carolina at Sage Valley Golf Club. Teams from both states were selected by accepting the top eight finishers at each state's Junior Championship.

The pristine setting at Sage Valley Golf Club witnessed some of the countries top junior golfers battling it out on the links. South Carolina team members Brad Sill and Corbin Mills followed up their victories Thursday by winning over Colin Ho and Ollie Schniederjans Friday extending the lead of the host team by four points. Georgia's juniors closed the gap within a point after Chase Parker, Harris English and Taylor Floyd all defeated Stephen Behr, Martin Summer and Logan Daver. Crawford Reeves continued his good play of late by winning his match 8 & 6 and Jacob Burger of Orangeburg won his match, solidifying South Carolina's victory. The match of the day concluded when Junior Champions of both Georgia and South Carolina conceded par putts on 18 and finished their match all square.

With the win, South Carolina inched closer in the overall standings, narrowing Georgia's lead to 20 wins to 12 for South Carolina. This is the first victory for the S.C. juniors since 2003.

Thirty-two years ago, Pete Cox of the Georgia State Golf Association and Charles Rountree, Jr. of the South Carolina Golf Association formalized the idea of the GA - SC team matches. The winning team has their victory inscribed on the beautiful Rountree - Cox trophy that was donated by the Rountree family. Every junior that has participated in the 31 year old competition, will find his name on the trophy with his teammates.

Christmas in July' Supports Junior Golf

Columbia, SC – Christmas came early for the South Carolina Junior Golf Foundation (SCJGF) in the form of a 'Christmas in July' celebration at Wild Hare Café. On July 25, Wild Hare owners, Lanny Gunter and Chris Clark, hosted a fundraising event featuring a small silent auction, raffle, drink specials and free food at their St. Andrews Road location in Irmo.

Many were in attendance to bid on items such as golf trips to Pawleys Island and Wild Dunes, golf clubs, gift certificates and much more. Santa and his helpers also made an appearance and took pictures with crowd members to raise even more money for Junior Golf.

South Carolina Junior Golf Foundation Executive Director Happ Lathrop was also on hand. Lathrop commented, "the 'Christmas in July' is a perfect example of folks believing in our programs and finding a way to help us with our fundraising needs. The owners and staff of the Wild Hare Café are to be commended for their efforts,"

Tim Kreger, Director of Development for the SCJGF noted a, "special thanks to Lanny Gunter and Chris Clark for their offering to host a 'Christmas in July' [and] helping raise over $6,000 in one night at the Wild Hare." Those funds will go to support the educational and recreational needs of South Carolina youth through an annual scholarship and golf programs conducted by the South Carolina Junior Golf Association.

Supporters such as Gunter and Clark and their staff, are reasons why South Carolina Junior Golf is so strong and why the game continues to grow for those youngsters who play the game. The help of dedicated community members and their continued support, both financially and conventionally, to a group who share a common interest two generations behind, keeps the spirit of the game alive!

Furman Golf Programs Ranked Among Nation's Top 20 By Golf Digest

Greenville SC -Lady Paladins Ranked 13th, Paladins 19th. Both the Furman men's and women's golf programs have been rated among the top 20 in the country according to the 2007-08 Golf Digest College Guide, released earlier this week.

The Golf Digest College Guide is designed to assist aspiring collegiate golfers in identifying the programs that best fit them by rating all NCAA golf programs in three different rankings. The "Golf First" ranking assess the programs based on their ability to groom future professionals. The "Balanced" ranking aims to list the programs based on the mix of top-notch golf and a top-notch education, while the "Academics" ranking is geared at identifying schools that best suit a player in search of strong academics as their first priority and a competitive golf program as their second priority.

ERNST AND REEVES CLAIM SOUTH CAROLINA JUNIOR MATCH PLAY TITLES

Greenville, SC —Austin Ernst is just carrying on a family tradition. Ernst, from Seneca, defeated Cayci Ruppe of Gafney 4&3 to capture the SC Girls' Match Play Championship at Furman University Golf Club. Ernst is the third member of her family to win this annual junior championship. Her father, Mark won the boys' championship in 1981 and her older brother Drew won the boys' championship in 2005. Ernst, a 15 year old high school sophomore displayed her ball striking ability winning her first Carolinas Golf Association championship. Ruppe, a 17 year old high school senior, played tough and determined golf, but in the end Ernst's consistency was just too much to over come. With the win, Ernst will be invited to represent the Carolinas on the junior girls' team in the Mid-Atlantic Challenge on August 4-5 at CC of North Carolina in Pinehurst, NC. In the boys' championship, home town favorite, Crawford Reeves of Greenville defeated Matthew Hopper of Gaffney 4&3 in their semifinals match and then captured the boys' title with a 2&1 victory over Mitchell Gray of Florence. Gray defeated his high school teammate, Taylor Sharber of Florence 3&2 in the semifinals to advance to the championship match. In a display of true team work, Sharber then picked up Gray's bag and caddied for him in the championship match even though he had just knocked him out of the event. In the championship match, Reeves displayed John Daly like length in reaching each of the par fives in two strokes. Reeves won the tenth and eleventh holes to take a 3 up lead, but Gray battled back to by winning the fourteenth and fifteenth holes to get back to within one hole of Reeves. On the par 3 sixteenth, Reeves knocked his tee shot to within 2 feet of the hole to take a 2 up lead and then halved the seventeenth hole to win is first CGA title. Both of the boys' will be invited to represent the Carolinas on the junior boys' team in the Carolinas-Virginias junior team matches on August 18-19 at Boonsboro CC in Lynchburg, VA.

This annual junior championship is conducted by the Carolinas Golf Association

Mike Zaifert: I'm ready for a good day on the course

Santee SC - The annual Santee Invitational hosted a field of 140 players at the Santee Cooper Resort golf course. It was a time of good fellowship and great golf on one of the premier golf courses in the State. The Maintenance crew worked long hours in the weeks prior to this tournament to make sure that the players would enjoy themselves. Along with the 120 players and Todd Miller, starters, officials and complete staff also including the unwanted Black Nats, a natural inhibition of the South Carolina area, the tournament went off with out a hitch.

This years winner was Jack Stone with two steady rounds of 74-74-148 to take the overall championship. Noted players in this years field were, Warren Pepper, Nick Avery, Mike Cobb, Bubba Hightower, and last years senior winner Bob Varn.

The Senior division winner was Gary Ramage, Bob Varn shot a 68 on the first day of play and chose to move out of the Senior division to play for the overall title.

Comments from the Players:

This is one of the Best run tournaments in the State!

This place is a little bit of Heaven on Earth!

The quality and toughness of this Golf Course makes you want to come back again and again

Todd Miller and his crew do a great job, Penny Barnes, Brian Shelton

POWERHOUSE FIELD TO CHALLENGE UREMOVICH IN 41st TWIN STATES JUNIOR GIRLS' CHAMPIONSHIP

WEST END, NC - The 41st Twin States Junior Girls' Championship will boast a powerhouse field when the 36-hole stroke play competition is conducted by the Carolinas Golf Association July 31-Aug. 1 at Old North State Club in New London, NC. Seven of the top 10 in the South Carolina Junior Girls' rankings, including top-ranked and defending champion Rachel Uremovich of Hilton Head Island, SC are entered; as are six of the top 10 in the North Carolina Junior Girls' rankings, including No. 1-ranked Meghan Moore of Bahama, NC. Sixth-ranked Courtney Taylor of Gastonia, NC, who won the Carolinas Junior Girls' Championship last month, and Carolinas Junior Girls' runnerup Amy Otteson of Wilson, NC are among the 91 entrants. Uremovich won the 2006 championship by three strokes after shooting 72-72—144 at the University Club In Blythewood, SC. She also won the 2006 S.C. Junior Match Play Championship conducted by the CGA. The Twin States Junior is an event for girls ages 18 and under, with players placed into flights based on their first-day scores. The top 16 players and those tied for 16th will comprise the championship flight. The par-72 Old North State Club course, which was designed by Tom Fazio and opened in 1992, will play at 5,874 yards for the juniors. Old North State hosted the 1997 North Carolina Amateur, the 2001 North Carolina Junior and the 2004 Carolinas-Virginias Junior Team Matches. The Twin States Junior was previously conducted by the Women's Carolinas Golf Association, but this year, at the WCGA's request, the Carolinas Golf Association adopted both this event and the Carolinas Junior Girls' Championship, which was played last month.

58th JUNIOR CHAMPIONSHIP OF THE CAROLINAS GOLF ASSOCIATION

WEST END, NC - The young fellows playing in the 58th Junior Championship of the Carolinas Golf Association will get a taste of old-style golf when the tournament is played at Hope Valley Country Club in Durham, NC, July 31-Aug. 2. Hope Valley's golf course, which opened for play in 1927, was created by legendary architect Donald Ross, whose works include Pinehurst No. 2. The youngsters will have their putting skills tested by greens that have such classic Ross characteristics as false fronts, inverted saucer slopes and subtle breaks around the cup. The par-70 layout will play at 6,692 yards for the Boys 14-15 and 16-18 age divisions, at 5,720 yards for the Boys 12-13 age bracket and 5,225 yards for Boys ages 11 and under. This will be the fourth time that Hope Valley has hosted a Carolinas Golf Association championship. The club was the venue for the Carolinas Senior Championship in 1980 and 1982 and the North Carolina Amateur in 1992. A new champion is assured in the older division this year as Will Ovenden of Spartanburg, SC is not entered. Ovenden won the 2006 title by five strokes at Colleton River's Dye Course in Bluffton, SC. The CGA received 303 applications for the championship, with the field whittled through withdrawals and qualifying events at Furman Golf Club in Greenville, SC on July 10 and at Indian Valley GC in Burlington, NC on July 24. For more information about the 58th Carolinas Junior Championship and other Carolinas Golf Association events, visit the Championship Home Page online at www.carolinasgolf.org.

2007 WSCGA Match Play Championship

Lady's Island, SC - Donna Gonsalves of Bluffton won the 2007 WSCGA Match Play Championship played at Lady's Island Country Club in Beaufort. Gonsalves went through her match play bracket with wins over Susan Harden, Caroline Rankin, and Karin Wolfe. In the final match, Donna defeated 2007 WSCGA Senior Champion Karen Ferree of Hilton Head. A tight match at the start, Gonsalves pulled ahead with a 2-under par 34 on the front side and played steady golf the rest of the match to secure the victory.

Brenda Frye from Charleston won the 1st flight, and Barbara Collins of Myrtle Beach won the 2nd flight. Consolation winners were Barbara Hocking in the Championship flight, Mo O'Brien, 1st flight, and Mary Jo Demko took the 2nd flight.

The WSCGA would like to thank Lady's Island Country Club for hosting the 30th playing of this tournament.

LEE BEDFORD PROVES #1 NC RANKING WITH VICTORY AT 58TH CAROLINAS JUNIOR CHAMPIONSHIP

Durham, NC - Lee Bedford of Cary, NC captured his first Carolinas Golf Association junior championship winning the 58th Carolinas Junior Championship by 5 shots at Hope Valley CC in Durham, NC. Bedford is the number one ranked junior boy in North Carolina. Bedford's final round of even par 70 on the Donald Ross designed golf course gave him a final score of eight under par 202.

Austin Reeves of Greenville, SC finished in second place while Harold Varner, III of Gastonia, NC finished in third place after winning a 7-hole playoff over Mark McMillen, Jr. of Smithfield, NC and Bo Andrews of Raleigh, NC. Bedford, Reeves and Varner all will represent the Carolinas in the Carolinas-Virginias Junior Team matches at Boonsboro CC in Lynchburg, VA on August 18-19, 2007. Reeves will be joined by his younger brother, Crawford, who qualified for the junior team by winning the SC Junior Match Play Championship in July.

In the 14-15 age division, Michael Cromie of Cary, NC won by 4 shots over Robert Register of Burlington. Davis Womble of High Point won his second CGA championship in the last 3 weeks winning the 12-13 age division by 4 shots over Wilson Brown, Jr. of Statesville, NC. And in a 6-hole playoff, Adam Garrett of Easley, SC defeated William Register of Burlington, NC and Danny Gleeson of Raleigh, NC to win the 11 and under age division.

This annual junior championship is conducted by the Carolinas Golf Association.

The Women's South Carolina Golf Association is a non-profit organization founded in 1949. The WSCGA membership is made up of local Women's Golf Associations throughout the state. Membership has grown from the original 10 clubs to over 150 member associations with more than 14,000 women golfers receiving WSCGA handicaps.

Recognized throughout the United States as one of the premiere Women's Golf Associations in the country, WSCGA acts as an arm of the USGA in upholding traditions, policies, and high values in regard to the great game of golf.

Amateur women golfers are the core of the Women's South Carolina Golf Association. The WSCGA Board of Governors is comprised of women who are recommended by local associations and voted on by the membership.

Each member association appoints a WSCGA representative and handicap chairperson. The WSCGA Board of Governors meets annually with the representatives and is always open to their suggestions in determining WSCGA policies and scheduling activities.

In addition, a WSCGA directory is published annually and distributed to all member clubs. A quarterly news letter is mailed to each club's representative.

The WSCGA also employs an Executive Director to provide assistance and service to all members.

CAROLINAS and VIRGINIA-MARYLAND TIED AT THE 6th MID-ATLANTIC JUNIOR GIRLS' CHALLENGE

PINEHURST, N.C. — The eight-golfer Virginia-Maryland squad as well as the Carolinas team each captured four singles matches in the final day of play of the 6th Mid-Atlantic Team Matches at the Country Club of North Carolina's Cardinal course. A team of juniors mixing North and South Carolina players against their Virginia and Maryland counterparts competed in the event.

ensuing year. Creed was three down after three holes when she first started the day but a momentum swing after the sixth hole would get her back to all square. Creed was then 2 up and lost the par 5-15th hole to go 1-up heading into sixteen where the two traded pars and went on to the tough par-3 17th. Brown hit a wonderful shot to about 10 feet while Creed landed hole high slightly off the green. Creed would safely make a par and could only watch while Brown went on to drain her putt for birdie and take the match to eighteen all square. Creed's drive found the fairway and landed well into the dogleg while Brown had to punch out from around the trees. In the end Creed won the hole with a five while Brown missed a shot putt to give the Maryland/Virginia squad a ½ point and their first win in three years of match-ups. Creed's putt sealed the deal for full point for the Carolinas team and the matches resulted in a tie. Due to the tie, the Carolinas team will retain the trophy for yet another year.
