SCAGM tournament has been placed on hold till a later date due to the many other tournaments in the area at the same time. In an effort to make this very first tournament a success we have had to take a back seat to the many other tournaments being played through out the State, by SCGA and the CGA and other tournaments from the many counties through out the state. We will have a tournament at a latter date to be announced soon. We encourage all of our readers to participate in the many amateur events through out the state and certainly do not want to have a conflict of play. Our goal is to provide the SC amateur the opportunity to continue to test themselves through competition through out the State.

2007 SCGA Senior Championship

Bluffton SC -Palmer, a Bluffton resident, shot a final round of 74, including an amazing 30 foot putt on the last hole to shoot a three day total of 218. When Palmer came off the 15th green he had a one shot lead over Ford, but two costly bogies on both 16 & 17 left the Belfair member one back coming into the tough 18th hole. Having to make birdie to get into a playoff, Palmer knocked his approach just off the fringe hole high left and then knocked in the fast 30 foot putt for the tie.

The playoff, contested on hole #18 and in the rain, was won with a routine two putt par by Palmer after a three putt bogey by Ford. This is the second consecutive year that Palmer has been part of playoff, losing to David Hambly in 2006 at Belfair Plantation.

The 2007 SCGA Senior Championship was played on the par 72 - 6,783 yard Nicklaus course at Colleton River Plantation in Bluffton, SC. The field consisted of 132 players over the age of 55 and was cut to the low 60 and ties after the first two days of play. 64 players made the cut at 163 or better.

David Burton is Back

Manning SC - What a year it has been for David Burton!

David took over the Pro position at the Clarendon Country Club and was very instrumental in the increase of play and membership for the beginning of the year.

Shortly after taking over he found out that he would need a bone marrow transplant. He continued to run the club and make things happen till the time of leaving and going to the hospital to have the transplant.

I am glad to say that he has returned to the Manning area as the Head Pro once again only this time he is now getting things underway for the new Owners (Warnie Sr. and Warnie II ) the Conleys. They have purchased the club and have now renamed the club. The new name is Shannon Green Golf Club.

They have already gone after new members and have plans to make Shannon Green the club that you would want to play everyday.

David has been asked to return and at this time his problem is in remission. (This lets all of us know that the Good Guy's do win on occasion.

Welcome back David and I salute you for your diligent's and desire to always excel.

Charleston National Country Club in Mount Pleasant to Host Qualifying Event

Charleston SC - The road to Pinehurst and the 2007 U.S. Kids Golf World Championship begins for many of South Carolina's best young golfers at the World Championship Qualifier at Charleston National Country Club in Mount Pleasant on June 19. The South Carolina World Championship Qualifier is among more than 50 qualifying events scheduled throughout the nation and in a number of international locations to determine the field for the world's largest golf tournament for kids 12 and under. Players may register for the tournament at www.uskidsgolf.com. There is no handicap requirement to participate. The field for the South Carolina qualifier will include boys and girls who will play a shorter age- and gender-friendly version of Charleston National course. Depending on their age, participants will play either nine or 18 holes. The World Championship Qualifiers will help determine the boys and girls fields for the eighth annual U.S. Kids Golf World Championship, which will be played Aug. 2-4 at Pinehurst Resort and several other courses in the Southern Pines area of North Carolina.

Stanley Finishes Second at NCAA Golf Tournament

Clemson, SC— Clemson freshman Kyle Stanley's bid to become the school's first NCAA individual champion in 10 years fell short Saturday, but the ACC Player of the Year still finished second to complete one of the great individual seasons in Clemson golf history.

Stanley shot a final round 69 to finish with a 273 score for his four rounds and 72 holes on the par 70 Golden Horseshoe Course in Williamsburg, VA, just two shots off the pace of Southern California freshman Jamie Lovemark, who shot a 64 in the final round to finish with a 271 total. Ron Grube of National Champion Stanford, finished third with a 274 score after making a bogey on the final hole.

Stanley and Lovemark had competed for the nation's top freshman honor most of the year so it was fitting that the final round of the NCAA Championship was a battle between the two young players. Entering the NCAA national tournament, Lovemark had the nation's number-one individual ranking in the Golfweek/Sagarin rankings, while Stanley was eighth overall, second among freshmen. At the conclusion of the tournament Lovemark was named National Player of the Year and Stanley was named first-team All-American. Stanley is the first freshman in Clemson history to be named first-team All-American by the Golf Coaches Association.

U.S. Kids World Championship Qualifiers

U.S. Kids Golf has announced a series of competitive events designed to give local youngsters an opportunity to develop their golf skills and test their games at top area courses this summer.

The World Championship Qualifiers will help determine the boys and girls fields for the eighth annual U.S. Kids Golf World Championship, which will be played Aug. 2-4 at Pinehurst Resort and several other courses in the Southern Pines area of North Carolina. More than 1,000 kids from 30 countries are expected to compete in the Championship, which includes both individual and team competitions.

U.S. Kids Golf is based in Atlanta, Ga., and manufactures equipment, apparel, balls and accessories specially for kids. In addition to more than 4,000 golf shops and retail locations in the U.S., the company's products also are available in Europe, Canada, the Middle and Far East, South America, Mexico and Australia. Through the Personal Tee Golf Learning Program and its Local Tours, State Championships, Regional Championships and the U.S. Kids Golf World Championship, USKG also provides opportunities for instruction and competition. For more information, call 1-888-3 US KIDS or visit the company's web site at www.uskidsgolf.com.

Legend's Resort lands on toughest courses list

Golf Digest has selected the toughest golf courses in the nation for the first time since 1966, and the Legends Resort's Moorland Course is ranked No. 37.

The listing of America's 50 Toughest Golf Courses appears in the magazine's March issue, which becomes available on newsstands today.

Moorland is a par-72 P.B. Dye design that doesn't kill players with its overall length of 6,800 yards but features a handful of long and tough par-4s.

The course also boasts rolling hills, some extreme mounding and elevation changes, deep and penalizing bunkers, waste bunkers, wetlands, lakes, areas of natural vegetation, railroad ties bordering many water hazards and waste bunkers, and large and severely undulating greens. Adding to the difficulty are a number of blind shots and elevated greens. It has a course rating of 72.8 and slope rating of 135.

The Ocean Course at Kiawah Island is the only other South Carolina course on the list, and is No. 1. According to the United States Golf Association, the Pete Dye-designed Ocean Course has the highest combination of slope (155) and course rating (79.6) of any golf course in the country.

Thirty-two of the 50 are open to the public, Pete Dye designed eight of them, and 26 states are represented on the list, which was determined by a collection of Golf Digest editors who have played all the courses in the ranking. North Carolina courses on the list are No. 7 Tot Hill Farm, No. 10 Tobacco Road, which was designed by Caledonia and True Blue designer Mike Strantz, and No. 32 Pinehurst No. 2 - which is far more difficult when the USGA prepares the course for a U.S. Open with fast greens and tightly cropped green surrounds. Other Strand courses that could make a case for the list of torturous layouts are True Blue, with a course rating of 74.3 and slope of 145; the Dye Club at Barefoot Resort, with a course rating of 73.3 and slope of 149; and Grande Dunes Golf Club, with a length of more than 7,600 yards, course rating of 77.3 and slope of 142.

Men's Golf Finishes Fifth at NCAA Championships

The Chanticleers slip in the final round but still post the school's and Big South Conference's best-ever finish in any NCAA Championship. Senior Dustin Johnson concluded his career with a tie for ninth and earned his second straight First Team All-American honors.

Butler and Karns to Defend Four Ball Title

Camden, S.C. – The 2007 SCGA Four Ball Championship will take place at the Donald Ross designed Camden Country Club, June 6-10, 2007.

Wednesday, June 6, will begin the competition consisting of two days of best-ball stroke play. This will determine the final 31 teams for the start of match play Friday morning. Gaffney's Paul Butler and Ben Karns, 2006 Four Ball Champions, will be the 32nd team in the field and have an opportunity to defend their title in a three day best ball match play format. Camden Country Club is a par 70 venue and extends 6,358 yards layout from the tips. The only 18-hole course in South Carolina designed by the legendary Donald Ross is sure to present a challenge to the field.

The WSCGA Vicki Hillen Junior Golf Foundation is pleased to announce the arrival of "From Tees to Greens and Everything In Between"

South Carolina Ties For 11th At NCAA Men's Golf Championships

The University of South Carolina men's golf team finished in a tie for 11th place at the NCAA Championships, completed Saturday at the Golden Horseshoe Golf Club's Gold Course (Par 70 - 6,803 yards). The Gamecocks fired a final round 287 (+7) to finish the tournament with final score of 16-over-par 1136. Stanford won the team crown with an 11-under-par 1109 to capture the title by 12 strokes over runner-up Georgia. Southern California's Jamie Lovemark was the individual champion with a nine-under-par 271 after posting a final round six-under-par 64.

The 11th-place finish is the highest for the Gamecocks at the NCAA meet since the 1998 squad also placed 11th. It matches that squad for the second-best finish in school history behind only the 1988 team that finished in a tie for eighth place among 30 schools at the Championships held that year in Thousand Oaks, Calif. The Gamecocks placed 22nd a year ago in Sunriver, Ore.

CHANNELL AND MCCLELLAN WIN 56TH CAROLINAS FOUR-BALL

Camden, SC- 2006 Carolinas Amateur Champion Scott McClellan and partner Dean Channell, both of Cary, NC held off finalists Taylor Hough of Spartanburg, SC and Daniel Neveu of Pinehurst, NC to win the Carolinas Four-Ball Championship, 2 and 1.

McClellan and Channell never trailed in the match gaining only a two-up advantage at any time.

Birdies were the order of business on the front nine, but high winds later in the day presented a rebellious back nine. Both teams threw out seven birdies on their first nine holes as McClellan and Channell turned with a one-up lead.

Neither team won a back-nine hole until a Hough birdie squared the match at the 14th. Channell countered with a par win on hole 15. McClellan sealed the 2 and 1 win with a 12-foot birdie on the par-4 17th.

“We had a tough bracket to get to the finals,” said Channell. “Which made this win that much more special.”

To reach the finals, the champions knocked off reigning North Carolina Four-Ball champions Brian and Mark Gauley; reigning Carolinas Mid-Amateur champion Walter Todd and partner Rick Cloninger; 2006 Carolinas Amateur runner-up (to McClellan) Whit Massey and partner Nick Hughey; and defending champions Robert and David Dargan.

Ekey Named To NGCA All-Region Team

Greenville, S.C. - Furman’s Kathleen Ekey has been named to the National Golf Coaches Association All- Region team after scoring a ninth place finish at the NCAA East Regional,

Ekey (67-71-74=212), a sophomore from Wadsworth, Ohio, finished at four-under-par for the tournament and earned a spot in a sudden death playoff with the winner advancing to the NCAA Championships.

Capps and Bell take the Par 3 Challenge

Columbia SC - Cody Proveaux and Blake Kennedy were ready to take their fourth unprecedented Par 3 Challenge title and their solid four under par effort was a great start in that effort. Westin Bell and Zachary Capps caught fire to birdie eight of their 18 holes to win their 8-18 bracket at the Golf Center and put an end to the impressive Proveaux - Kennedy run. After a four hole play-off, William Dorriety and Luke Coates captured the 8 and up division while Austin Langdale and Carson Young finished Lake Murray Golf Center at 6 under par to take the 8-12 bracket. The teams were hosted by The Golf Center in Columbia and Lake Murray Golf Center in Chapin. The format was two person captain’s choice over 18 holes of par three play.

Greenville SC -The Inaugural First Tee Invitational, presented by the BI-LO Charity Classic, will be played June 8, 2007 at the Furman University Golf Club in Greenville, SC. The BI-LO Charity Classic is the largest one-day benefit golf tournament in the United States. "We are very proud to be involved with providing SC First Tee Chapter kids an opportunity that they otherwise might not be able to experience," said Joyce Smart, BI-LO Charity Classic Board Member and Director of Corporate Communications at BI-LO. Willie Miller, Furman University Golf Club Director of Golf, concurred with Smart, adding, "We at Furman University are delighted that we have been selected to host this event." Joining the BI-LO Charity Classic in sponsoring this event are Nike Golf, Michelin, Chick-fil-A at Cherrydale and Palmetto Bank.

The First Tee Invitational will bring together twelve junior golfers from all five of The First Tee Chapters of South Carolina and an additional dozen from The Fairway Outreach program of Columbia. Each chapter will be divided into three person teams that will be joined by an adult "captain." The Captain's Choice team event will be preceded by an instructional clinic conducted by current Furman University and Clemson University golf team members.

This year's inaugural tournament will honor the founders of the BI-LO Charity Classic: Dean Anderson, retired CEO of Leslie Advertising; Larry Greer, Principal of Western Marketing; Doug Smith, former General Manager at WYFF in Greenville; and Bill Yingling, former President and CEO of BI-LO.

About The First Tee

The First Tee is a national youth program whose mission is "to impact the lives of young people by providing learning facilities and educational programs that promote character development and life-enhancing values through the game of golf." The First Tee Invitational will be hosted by The First Tee of Greenville chapter and conducted by the SC Junior Golf Association.

Another 40 Plus Victory Determined by Chip-Off

Pickens SC - On a day where scores were higher than normal, Kirk Davis of Okatie and Ken Kirkland of Simpsonville shot a round of two over par 74 to force a sudden death chip-off to determine the champion of the 40 Plus event at The Reserve at Lake Keowee. Davis knocked his chip to within three feet and claimed the victory over the 6,731 yard, par 72 course and the other 87 competitors. Strong winds and cooler temperatures didn't help the scoring but neither did the fact that the majority of the field has never laid eyes on The Reserve. The pristine setting rolling through the foothills of the Blue Ridge Mountains is a perfect location for the Jack Nicklaus designed course and posed a difficult task for the contestants.

Little Legends Golf

MISSION - The mission of the Little Legends program is to create a fun opportunity for youth ages 4-13, and their parents, to be introduced to and grow through the great game of golf. This cost effective program includes education to both the juniors and parents about the rules and etiquette, and helps develop a familiar and comfortable environment to play golf.

PURPOSE - The purpose of the Little Legends program is not to create winners, but avid golfers. By not placing all of the emphasis on improving ones playing ability, participants will have more fun.

SEASON - The first two weeks of the Little Legends program educates both parents and juniors on rules and etiquettes of this great game, while also teaching them about the different kinds of golf shots they may experience while playing. The final four weeks is dedicated to fun, team-oriented golf outings on par 3 courses and shortened tees on regulation golf courses

Field is set for the 49th

Junior Championship

Orangeburg SC -On June 1st the final qualifying site at Hickory Knob Golf Club stayed dry to complete qualifying for the 49th Junior Championship. The three other sites; Wyboo Golf Club, Sweetwater Country Club, and Wedgefield Plantation completed play on May 12. The Hickory Knob event was rained out to tremendous thunderstorms, thus the rescheduled round. Twenty-eight players were exempt from qualifying due to outstanding finishes in prior championships.

The Country Club of Orangeburg was formed in 1921 and has hosted most of the Carolinas' Championships, including the South Carolina Four Ball Championship in 2004. They have also been host to several USGA qualifiers.

Carolinas Four Ball Championship

Scott McClellan & Dean Channell

Camden, SC - 2006 Carolinas Amateur Champion Scott McClellan and partner Dean Channell, both of Cary, NC held off finalists Taylor Hough of Spartanburg, SC and Daniel Neveu of Pinehurst, NC to win the Carolinas Four-Ball Championship, 2 and 1. McClellan and Channell never trailed in the match gaining only a two-up advantage at any time. Birdies were the order of business on the front nine, but high winds later in the day presented a rebellious back nine. Both teams threw out seven birdies on their first nine holes as McClellan and Channell turned with a one-up lead. Neither team won a back-nine hole until a Hough birdie squared the match at the 14th. Channell countered with a par win on hole 15. McClellan sealed the 2 and 1 win with a 12-foot birdie on the par-4 17th. "We had a tough bracket to get to the finals," said Channell. "Which made this win that much more special." To reach the finals, the champions knocked off reigning North Carolina Four-Ball champions Brian and Mark Gauley; reigning Carolinas Mid-Amateur champion Walter Todd and partner Rick Cloninger; 2006 Carolinas Amateur runner-up (to McClellan) Whit Massey and partner Nick Hughey; and defending champions Robert and David Dargan.

2007 Pro Junior

Columbia SC -With twenty four teams chasing for the 2007 title, the team from Spring Valley C.C. won the SCPGA-SCJGA Pro-Junior with a score of 55. Mike Birdsell teamed with Thomas Bradshaw, Will Murphy, and William Harwood to shoot the 29-26 effort of 17 under par. The defending champions, Southern Oaks, put up a great effort and finished four shots behind. The shot of the day came from the Woodcreek Farms team as Alan King, the eldest junior in the group, fired a hole in one on #8. Teams are comprised of PGA Professionals that are members of the South Carolina Chapter of the PGA and three of their junior members. The foursomes had three age brackets represented on their talented teams. Juniors age 15-18, 13-14, and 10-12 partnered with their professional in this 18 hole captain's choice format. Tom Mason, President of the SCPGA, said "This is a day we look forward to as we get to spend the entire day with our future in the game. I think the Professionals have as much fun as the juniors. Although geared to be a fun day of golf, make no mistake, these youngsters are competitive!"

Juniors ready for the Junior Festival of Flowers

Greenwood SC -For 11 years, the Jimmy Self was known as a premier high school invitational conducted by the South Carolina Junior Golf Association. The 2007 event has transformed into an individual stroke play competition for both boys and girls, thereby opening the doors to those who may not have been on a championship high school team. Keeping education as a priority, the field was selected based strictly on their academic record and handicap index.

As part of the month long celebration known as the Festival of Flowers, a junior specific tournament was added to the long running invitational golf tournaments held in Greenwood. Greenwood Country Club been kind enough to host the Junior Festival of Flowers to be played June 4 and 5. The tournament is held in memory of James C. "Jimmy" Self. He was the former Chairman-of-the-Board for Greenwood Mills, who died in 1995. Mr. Self served as captain of the golf team at Clemson in 1964 & 65, was on the South Carolina Golf Association Board from 1969-71 and was generous to the game of golf in the years that followed. The parties involved felt this tournament would be a great tribute to the man that gave so much to golf.

The 36 hole event has been presented by Greenwood Development since inception. Greenwood Development Corporation has been a leader in the creation and management of residential and resort communities in the Southeast since 1978. The company's association with golf has been a vital part of its history, from developing some of the region's most beloved golf courses, to sponsorship of the Heritage Tournament and its commitment to junior golf.

Super Demo Day and Inaugural Long Drive City Championship a HIT

West Columbia SC - In an effort to promote Junior Golf in South Carolina, the South Carolina Junior Golf Foundation hosted the Inaugural Columbia Long Drive City Championship at Par Tee Driving Range in West Columbia in conjunction with Second Annual Golf Headquarters Super Expo and Demo Day. With record numbers in attendance of nearly 600 this year, it was truly the most successful event in its short history.

Along with the City Long Drive Championship, there was also a Carolinas Golf Association/Blue Cross Blue Shield South Carolina sponsored "Clubs for Kids" program. This event introduced over 80 children to the game of golf. Not only did those youngsters receive FREE instruction, they also left with FREE clubs and golf balls and the knowledge of where to go (Junior Golf Lands) to further their game for FREE.

Multiple manufacturers, including Taylor Made, Nike, Calloway, Titleist and many others, had demo clubs available for the public to try out. Golf Headquarters was instrumental in getting 18 golf industry manufacturers on site including four touring vans to make this one of the largest and most accessible Demo Days in the southeast.

In the long drive, there were six different divisions for amateurs. Trophies were awarded for an overall champion and for first place in each division, along with gift certificates provided by Golf Headquarters for first and second.

Musgrove Mill Team Survives

Clinton SC -The Musgrove Mill team of Tim Pope, Mike Gravley and Walter Todd battled through severe winds and tough greens to win the 2007 SCGA Trescott Championship with a score of 238. Greenville Country Club finished one stroke back at 239.

To put into perspective of how hard the conditions were, the winning total of 238 was 23 shots higher than the 2006 winning total of one under par. This year's Trescott champions, based on the aggregate score of the three amateurs, consisted of an 81 from Walter Todd, an 80 from Tim Pope and a 77 from Mike Gravley. This victory marked the fourth time in six years that the Musgrove Mill team has captured the Championship. Their other titles came in 2002, 2003 & 2005. The low individual score for the day came from James Rowland out of the The Golf Club at Star Fort with a two over par 74.

The Pro-Am portion of the event, which counts the two low gross balls per hole for all four players, was captured by the Country Club of Lexington. The Lexington team was led by Head Professional Will Branham and shot a total of three under par 141. Defending Pro-Am Champions, Holly Tree Country Club finished one shot back at 142.

The 2007 SCGA Trescott Championship was played on the par 72, Links at Stoney Point in Greenwood, SC. The field consisted of 32 teams playing in both the Trescott Championship and the Pro-Am. The Trescott Championship is one of 18 Major Championships conducted by the South Carolina Golf Association.

Women's 9th Senior Amateur Championship

Spartanburg, SC — Final round results of the 9th Carolinas Women's Senior Amateur Championship hosted by the Country Club of Spartanburg in Spartanburg, SC. Par 35-38—73, 5610 yards. Defending champion, Patty Moore of Charlotte, NC now holds four Carolinas Women's Senior titles. While Moore had a hard day, shooting an 81, she still was able to fend off fellow competitors to win the championship by four shots. "I think trying to defend a title can add a little extra pressure to your round. I take all my wins pretty seriously and I am excited to be able to win another senior championship title," Moore said. Moore looks forward to another championship season and is still working hard on her game to keep her competitive edge. Runner-up Melissa Sage also of Charlotte, NC fired a 79 which actually was the best round of the day. After the first round players were put into flights based on score. Ginger Lash of Pinehurst, NC won the Super Senior division. The Super Senior Division plays a shorter course. This championship is conducted by the Carolinas Golf Association.

39th Senior Four-Ball Championship

BLYTHEWOOD, SC - Final round results of the 39th Carolinas Senior Four-Ball Championship of the Carolinas Golf Association hosted by The Windermere Club in Blythewood, SC. (6350 yards, par 36-36-72). Joe Padgette, 56, of North Charleston, SC and Bill Smunk, 56, of Kingstree, SC fired a final round four-under par 68-201 total to win the Carolinas Senior Four-Ball championship by two strokes. The Bulls Bay Golf Club members entered the final round only one stroke off the lead. After carding pars on the first eleven holes, Padgette and Smunk birdied four out of the last seven holes to claim the title. "We ham and egged it real well today", stated Smunk, an insurance agent. "After not getting off to a great start, we birdied four out of our last seven holes and the next thing I know we are being handed the trophies." Sharing a tie for second place are 36-hole leaders

Arnold Edwards and Doug Buchanan of Charlotte, NC; 2004 champions Vic Hannon of Camden, SC and Jim Patti of Bluffton, SC; and Brodie Baker of Bermuda Run, NC and Jim Pridgen of Jamestown, NC. Defending champions Ron Carpenter of Durham, NC and Ernie Newton of High Point, NC finished in a tie for fifth place at 10-under par 206. The Carolinas Senior Four-Ball Championship is open to male amateur golfers over age 55, is a resident of one of the Carolinas and is a member of a club which is a member of Carolinas Golf Assoc.

Carolinas Mid-Amateur Championship

Charlotte, NC - Walter Todd of Laurens, SC lead wire-to-wire to claim the Carolinas Mid-Amateur Championship at Providence Country Club. Todd shot a final-round even-par 72 to hold off a back-nine charge by reigning South Carolina Mid-Amateur Champion Steve Liebler of Irmo, SC. Todd's steady nines of even par on both sides provided a one-shot lead over Liebler. The 46 year-old Todd began the final round with a four-stroke lead over 2003 champion Rick Cloninger of Fort Mill, SC. Cloninger's final round 71 was enough for a solo third place finish, three back of Todd. Playing with Cloninger, Todd thought his lead was three strokes heading into the 18th hole. "The only time I checked the scores was at the turn to see if anyone was making a charge," said Todd. "At that time I was six strokes in the lead. Unbeknownst to Todd, Steve Liebler was making a back-nine charge with birdies on 12, 13, 14, 15 and 17. Liebler's back-nine four-under par 33 was not enough to secure the win. "I had no idea what Steve (Liebler) was doing in front of me," said a relieved Todd. "Maybe it was best I did not know."

31st Carolinas Pro-Amateur Club Championship of the Carolinas Golf Association

CONOVER, NC - Final results of the 31st Carolinas Pro-Amateur Club Championship of the Carolinas Golf Association hosted by Rock Barn Golf and Country Club in Conover, NC. The championship was played at the club's Jones Course (6998 yards, par 36-3672). The Burlington, NC based Alamance Country Club team of Adam McLaughlin and Richard Hogan fired a seven-under par 65 to win the championship by two-strokes. This is Alamance's first Carolinas Pro-Amateur title. McLaughlin, 26, carded six birdies for the Alamance Country Club duo while Hogan, a 56 year-old dentist, threw in two birdies of his own. The only miscue was a bogey on the par-4 fifth hole. We both putted very well today and Adam played exceptionally well with his six birdies, stated Hogan. Finishing in a five-way tie for second place with a five-under par 67 was Green River Country Club in Chesterfield, SC, High Point Country Club in High Point, NC, Country Club of Spartanburg in Spartanburg, SC, Boone Golf Club, Boone, NC and Cleghorn Plantation Golf Club in Rutherfordton, NC. This championship is conducted by the Carolinas Golf Association.
