Volume 8 Issue 10

FROM THE EDITOR

My choice for the cover this month is a long time friend and mentor to this wonderful game Terry Florence. Terry was elected to the SC PGA Hall of Fame and rightfully so. No other Pro that I know of in this State has done more to make this game. A true Southern Gentleman, honorable, humble, dedicated, and totally a Great Man. I have been supported by this man since my beginning days of Golf. As an assistant Pro at the Muni Golf Club in Charleston SC, he has been an inspiration to me thru his leadership, and dedication to this game. No words can describe the respect that I and many others have for Terry. It is with great pleasure that I have the opportunity to honor my friend by placing him on the cover and also extend my congratulations to his induction into the South Carolina PGA Hall of Fame.

South Carolina Coastal Seniors Continue to Support Junior Golf

Columbia SC – Since 2002 the South Carolina Coastal Seniors, based out of Fripp Island, S.C., have been major supporters of the South Carolina Junior Golf Foundation in more ways than one. Each year the SCCS contributes $1,500 to the SCJGF Scholarship Fund to help enable a high school senior from the ‘Low Country’ pursue a collegiate academic career in his or her home state. Students are selected through an application process which is administered by the Center for Scholarship Administration based out of Taylors, S.C. Through 2008, funding from the South Carolina Coastal Seniors has helped seven youth achieve their goals of getting a college education. Not only does this group of dedicated seniors contribute financially but they also donate a hefty amount of used golf clubs, golf balls and golf bags annually that go directly to the South Carolina Junior Golf Association’s programs like ‘Clubs 4 Kids’ and Little Legends. ‘Clubs 4 Kids’ is a grass roots program that offers free instruction and equipment to any junior golfer interested in getting started in the game of golf. ‘Little Legends’ is the next step in advancing through the SCJGA and is centered around the concept of a fun introduction to the game of golf that includes instruction, teaches the etiquette of the game and basic fundamentals all while on the golf course.

Recently, the SCJGA was recognized as the #1 Junior Golf Association in the country by Golf Digest Magazine. This kind of accomplishment must be shared with folks like those involved with the South Carolina Coastal Seniors.

2008 WSCGA STATE CHAMPIONSHIP

Aiken, SC - Dawn Woodard of Greer captured her first WSCGA Stroke Play Championship winning the 2008 tournament played at the difficult 5839 yard Palmetto Golf Club in Aiken with a three day total of 226. Woodard shot three rounds in the 70’s to finish four shots ahead of Aiken resident Whitney Simons, whom she shared the lead with going into the third and final round. Simons stayed in the hunt most of the final day, but Woodard’s consistency paid off in the end with a second straight 75 to secure the title. Simons finished with a 79. Wallace Hamerton from Bluffton finished third with a 235 and in fourth place was former champion Lea Venable shooting a three day total of 239.

Linda Miller of Taylors won the State Division by two shots over Liz Scheuer from N. Augusta. Miller took control with a first round 82 and held on to win the division. Susan Dauber from Simpsonville finished third and Karren Peterson also from Simpsonville was the fourth place finisher.

Brenda Bauer from Columbia was the overall net winner of the Riccoboni Trophy with a three day net total of 226.

Elaine Johnson from Hartsville was the winner of Flight 2 in the Championship Division with Cecelia Barksdale finishing second. In the State division, the second flight was won by Russell Holliday from Myrtle Beach. Sandy McKinney from Greer won the third flight, and Carrel Westlake from Greenville was the winner of the fourth flight.

CAROLINAS PGA ANNOUNCES TERRY FLORENCE AS ITS 39TH INDUCTEE INTO THE CPGA HALL OF FAME

MYRTLE BEACH, S.C. — The Carolinas PGA Section is proud to announce Terry Florence as its 39th Inductee into the Carolinas PGA [CPGA] Hall of Fame. Since the CPGA established its Hall of Fame in 1981, only 38 other professionals have been honored in this way. First nominated by his peers and then chosen by the Hall of Fame Selection Committee, Florence will be recognized for his abilities, leadership and overall contributions to the Section, The PGA of America and most importantly, the game of golf. "Terry Florence has been throughout his career the epitome of what a PGA Member should represent and strive to achieve," said Carolinas PGA President Kelly Childs. "As a great player, leader, operator, and mentor, he has demonstrated what it is to be the gold standard of PGA Professionalism. I could not be happier or more proud to see Terry take his well deserved place among the greatest of all the Carolinas PGA Professionals in our Hall of Fame." Elected to membership in The PGA of America in 1978, Florence has been a consummate professional throughout his thirty year career in the Carolinas, displaying the traits that are so inherent to the game of golf itself – honesty, integrity, and character. He quickly became an active and integral member of the Carolinas PGA, serving on his first CPGA committee in 1980 and soon after being elected to the position of Vice President of the South Carolina Chapter in 1981. From 1980 – 1992, he served on 12 other committees both for the Chapter and the Section, served on the CPGA Board of Directors, and was also an instructor at National PGA workshops and USGA Rules Seminars. From 1980 – 2002 he also served as a Tournament Committee Director for over 100 charity events which included the United Way, the American Cancer Society, and the American Heart Association. He has also served on various community organizations throughout the Charleston area. Even with all the time and effort he has put into various committees, community activities, offices, and education, Florence's legacy will perhaps always be defined by his playing ability. His playing career in his early days saw him become an All-America at Gardner-Webb University in 1971, win the CPGA Assistants Championship in 1975 and win the South Carolina Open twice in 1976 and 1978. In the past 40 years, Terry has won well over 20 championships, qualified for the Professional National Championship 16 times and has participated in seven major championships including four PGA Championships, one U.S. Senior Open and two Senior PGA Championships. The awards Florence has received throughout his tenure have also continually exemplified exactly how successful he has been when it comes to golf as a business and as a way of life. He has single-handedly set the precedent in the Carolinas when it comes to golf merchandising having been recognized as the CPGA Resort Merchandiser of the Year four times (1987, 1988, 1992 and 1995). For his abilities and accomplishments within the Section and his contributions to the game of golf in the Carolinas, he received the most prestigious CPGA Special Award when he was honored in 1992 as the Carolinas PGA Golf Professional of the Year. In 2005, he was inducted into the South Carolina Golf Hall of Fame and this year, the Carolinas PGA Section has the pleasure of honoring this very deserving and inspiring PGA professional as its 39th Hall of Fame inductee. The first thing Florence will tell you is that he is not alone when it comes to achieving this honor. Without his peers, his family and his friends, he would not be where he is today. "I'm not sure I'm deserving of it. It's very humbling but at the same time I'm very proud in part because I'm proud of all of my peers and the work that they do. [Golf] is an incredible profession- it takes a lot of dedication and hard work. For me, this runs the whole gamut of the emotional curve. I've tried to serve, tried to lead, tried to encourage my assistants to get involved and stay involved and I just feel very blessed to have been able to make a career and a living out of the game of GOLF

Junior Golf Lands

Junior Golf Land facilities are open for all youth groups— Junior Golf Lands were designed specifically to encourage underprivileged and minority youths between the ages of eight and seventeen to get involved with the game of golf and the character building attributes that are associated with the game.

The SCJGA Junior Golf Land Program is ever expanding. Riverside Golf Center, opening in Spring 1997, paved the way for a youngsters to have access to this great game. The City of Columbia Golf Center has since opened in late 2001 to expand the reach of the SCJGA! The Junior Golf Land program was next introduced in Spartanburg, SC at the Creek Golf Club. Greenville and Myrtle Beach came on line in 2005, bringing the total to five. Charleston and Hilton Head are the next targets for Junior Golf Land expansion.

Thanks to the efforts of Hootie & the Blowfish Monday After the Masters and a grant from the United States Golf Association (USGA), we now have the ability to offer these services to youth organizations free of charge:

- Golf clubs and balls for all participants
- Quality golf instruction
- Nine hole par 3 course
- Practice range and short game area

Giles holes out for victory in 40 Plus

North Augusta - Mark Giles (Columbia) holed out for eagle on the ninth hole (his eighteenth) to earn victory in the SCGA 40 Plus event at Mount Vintage Plantation. Also carding four birdies, Giles' two under par score of 70 was one stroke better than that of Ron Schroder (Aiken) and Kevin Hester (Blythewood), both of which shot one under par 71.

In the net division, Chuck Cecil (Simpsonville) took top honors with a net 65.

The 40 Plus is a series of events conducted for the "baby boomer" golfers across South Carolina, over the age of 40. The field consisted of 113 players, playing on the 6320 yard Mount Vintage Plantation in North Augusta, SC. This event was the fifth of eight 40 Plus events the SCGA will conduct in 2008. The next 40 Plus event will be held on October 20th at Spring Valley Country Club in Columbia, SC.

Nestled on the banks of the Stono River on James Island, The City of Charleston Golf Course, affectionately known as “The Muni” by Charlestonians, is brilliantly designed to welcome beginners of all ages and challenge golfers of every skill level. With greens that roll true, a friendly and knowledgeable staff, and superb playing conditions year-round, it is not surprising that golfers drive from many of the nearby destination resorts to enjoy one of the best golf values in South Carolina.

Cloninger and White Roll On To Victory

Columbia SC -Rick Cloninger and Todd White shot a second consecutive round of 64 for a two day total of 128 and four shot victory in the SCGA's Players Four Ball. Fort Mill's Rick Cloninger and Moore's Todd White combined for eight birdies and no bogies to beat out Brent Roof and Paul Tucker who finished alone in second place.

The 24th Annual SCGA Players Four Ball Championship was played on the par 72, Columbia Country Club in Blythewood, S.C. The field consisted of 66 two-man teams playing Best Ball format conducted over thirty six holes. The Players Four Ball Championship is one of 19 Major Championships conducted annually by the South Carolina Golf Association

Douglas and Long come through with victory

Santee SC - A second consecutive round of five under par 67 propelled the team of Jim Douglas (Aiken) and Jared Long (Aiken) to victory in the 35th Annual SCGA Senior Better Ball Championship. Douglas and Long carded six birdies and one bogey in their final round. Their two day total of ten under par 134 was two strokes better than playing competitors Tom Bryant (Columbia) and Marvin Nesmith (Lugoff), as well as First Flight winners, Bill Smunk (Kingstree) and Neal Baker (Charleston). The Baker/Smunk pair carded the low round of the tournament with a final round eight under par 64.

Defending Champions Lewis Rollins (Greenwood) and Frank Williams (Greenwood) tied for third along with the teams of Butch Derrick (Columbia) and Robert Renfroe (Lexington), and Jeff Batts (Chapin) and Harry Benenhaley (Columbia). All three teams carded two day totals of seven under par 137.

The 2008 SCGA Senior Better Ball Championship is being played on the par 72 – 6,413 yard, Santee Cooper Country Club in Santee, S.C. The field consists of 64 two-man teams playing Best Ball format conducted over thirty six holes. The Senior Better Ball Championship is one of 18 Major Championships conducted annually by the South Carolina Golf Association.

INSTRUCTIONS

Below is the explanation of how simple a golf swing can be, and what perfect sense it makes, it could be your key to playing better more consistent golf immediately, simply. While this idea may not be for everyone, most of you reading this are not world class athletes like we see every week on t.v. And we know that about half of these world class athletes “slam the trunk” on Fridays. Missed cuts = no pay this week !! Tour players fail often, and they practice hours daily, you don’t have the time for this amount of practice so how often can you expect to excel at such a difficult game? Natural Golf is an alternative which absolutely works. Read on, conduct some due diligence to see if what is written below makes sense to you

Why you are inconsistent The primary factor causing inconsistency for most golfers is that they setup with their arms and club shaft on different planes but return through impact with arms and club shaft on the same plane (see pictures to right). The alignment of arms with club shaft during the swing is a natural response to the swinging force created by the club head. However, the sequence of body motions necessary to accommodate this alignment when starting in a different setup is complicated and usually miss timed during the swing, causing errant golf shots and inconsistent scoring...not to mention bad backs, hips, shoulders and bruised egos! These pictures to the right are of professional, world class athletes, they possess the talent level and physical ability necessary to successfully accomplish the timing required during the swing when arms and club shaft start where pictured. Look in the mirror...do you have the physical ability to time a swing like this? There is an easier way

Natural Golf is based on the science of a Single Plane Swing. By starting with your arms and club shaft on the same plane at setup there are virtually no strenuous body compensations necessary to return through this natural alignment during the swing. The Natural Golf Single Plane swing simply has fewer moving parts leading to more consistent ball striking and lower scores. This is a swing you can do, not a swing you see done on TV! Look at the pictures to the right, the setup position is virtually identical to the impact position. No twisting or turning necessary to accommodate the natural alignment of the club shaft with the arms because that is where you start! Learn the Natural Golf Fundamentals at the Moe Norman Golf Academy and enjoy the most consistent golf of your life! just go to www.moenormangolfacademy.org

Fundamental #1 – The Natural Hold; Learn how to hold the club in a way that virtually guarantees a square clubface at impact every time. Fundamental #2 – The Single Plane Setup ; Learn to setup to the ball where you will naturally return during the swing at impact – Reduce stress – Gain Consistency. Fundamental #3 – Drive the Ball to Your Target; Learn the secret of Leverage as a power source to replace all the twisting and turning – Turn your current powerless effort into Effortless Power!

If you haven’t already, give it a try! Explore

Patriot Golfers rally to 11th-place finish as #12 Mocs claim Aldila title

CHATTANOOGA, TN – The Francis Marion University golf team, playing its first event of the season and its first competition since last week's tragic death of junior golfer Jonathan Lavin, rallied over the final two rounds on Tuesday (Sept. 9) to finish 11th at the Aldila Scenic City Invitational Tournament, hosted by the University of Tennessee-Chattanooga and Middle Tennessee State University at the Council Fire Golf Club.

The host Mocs, ranked 12th in the Golfweek preseason rankings, cruised to the team title, winning by 14 shots after carding a record final-round of 266 (22-under par). Augusta State University claimed second place

The Patriots were 16th after Monday's opening round, and 14th after the completion of the weather-delay second round. FMU carded a final-round team score of 287 to finish with a 54-hole total of 871, only one shot behind 10th-place finisher Jacksonville State University, the opening round leader.

FMU sophomore Christopher Couch was the top Patriot finisher. The Summerville native carded rounds of 3-under 69 and 2-under 70 on Tuesday to tie for 17th place at 212 (4-under par). Senior Andrew Pitcher was one shot behind Couch and tied for 20th position (71-71-71=213). Senior Peter McGibney tied for 51st (75-76-70=221), while senior Ronan O'Connor tied for 73rd (79-73-76=228) and sophomore Keith Crowley tied for 76th (79-73-77=229).

Southeastern Louisiana's Matt Carvell followed up his opening round 60 (12-under par) with rounds of 70 and 68 to walk away with medalist honors. His three-day total of 18-under par 198 is a tournament record

Francis Marion Golfer dies in traffic accident

FLORENCE, SC - Francis Marion University junior golfer Jonathan Lavin was tragically killed in a traffic accident, Wednesday evening (Sept. 3) in Florence. Lavin, 21, was a native of Askim, Sweden. The accident occurred shortly before 7 p.m. at the intersection of National Cemetery Road and Freedom Boulevard, approximately three miles from the FMU campus.

Lavin played in three tournaments for the Patriots last season after appearing in seven events as a freshman.

He was majoring in marketing, and was named to both the Peach Belt Conference Presidential and FMU Swamp Fox Athletic-Academic honor rolls for the 2007-08 academic year. "We are deeply saddened by this accident and our prayers go out to Jonathan's family," said

Francis Marion athletic director Murray Hartzler. "Jonathan was a fine example of what a student-athlete should be, and his loss will be felt throughout our campus."

Francis Marion golf coach Mark Gaynor said, "As an athletic coach, this is a day you never expect to have to face. This time should be about going to class and meeting on the course for practice and preparing for a new season. All of these young men become family members and Jonathan was no different. Now we have lost part of our family and that hurts. Jonathan will be greatly missed and he will always be a part of the FMU golf team. We extend our deepest sympathy to his family."

"WINNING ISN'T DESTINY. IT'S A RESULT OF HARD WORK AND THE RIGHT TOOLS."

Mills takes the Bobby Chapman

Spartanburg, SC—Corbin Mills started the day two strokes off the lead after he finished day one with a 68. The Easley, SC native came home with a 67 to win by two over Robert Register. A back nine of 32 gave him the cushion he needed for his first major national win. “Solid play and a good short game got me around on a tough day” said the future Clemson Tiger.

Normally played at the Country Club of Spartanburg, The Carolina Country Club is host for the 2008 event due to renovations at the home course for the tournament. Carolina Country Club is host to the BMW Charity Pro-Am for the Nationwide Tour and has been a wonderful host for the one year hiatus.

The 2008 field represents Canada, Slovenia, and 13 states were invited based on their 2008 accomplishments. The 84 players have combined for 7 AJGA victories, 13 state junior championships, qualified for 13 USGA events, 20 other major wins, and has an average handicap of well below scratch.

The tournament is held in honor of the late Robert H. Chapman, Jr. Chapman, a long time member of the Country Club of Spartanburg, was the only man to serve as president of both the South Carolina Golf Association & Carolinas Golf Association. He was an accomplished player and served the USGA in several capacities. In his business life, Chapman was a local and national leader in the textile industry. The tournament also benefits the Spartanburg Foundation and the South Carolina Junior Golf Foundation. To date, over $100,000 has gone to scholarship recipients through both organizations thanks to the many kind supporters of the Bobby Chapman.

For more information, contact Chris Miller with the SCJGA at (803) 732-9311. The Bobby Chapman is one of 13 major events conducted by the SCJGA. Results, schedules and applications may be accessed via the Internet at www.scjga.org.

Franziska Blum wins Lady Falcon Invitational for second time

NEW LONDON, N.C. – The Newberry College women’s golf team finished in third place after the second round was cancelled due to rain on Tuesday at the Lady Falcon Invitational hosted by Pfeiffer University. Newberry shot 321 as a team in the first round at the Old North State Golf Club in New London, N.C. The ladies finished behind tournament leader Presbyterian College by eight strokes and second place Wingate by three.

Individually, Franziska Blum (Schweinfurt, Germany) was the tournament champion after a first round 73 (+1). Franziska won the Lady Falcon Invitational last season and tied for second two years ago. Newcomer Maria Besio (Buenos Aires, .

Argentina) helped boost Newberry’s play with a first round 76 (+4). Freshman Kaitlin O’Sullivan (Hilton Head, S.C.) finished with a stroke total of 85 (+13) and junior Sarah Grigor (Oakville, Ontario) shot an 87 (+15). Rounding out Newberry’s first round was Julia Sizemore’s (Bel Air, Md.) 88 (+16)

Spence Completes Renovation of Furman University GC

GREENVILLE, S.C. – Furman University Golf Club, home to the perennially powerful Furman men's and women's golf teams, has been renovated by architect Kris W. Spence. The renovation focused on all 18 greens and their surrounds and was completed Aug. 22. The course is expected to reopen for play in early October. Spence was intent on adding character and difficulty to the putting surfaces to challenge the modern collegiate golfer, while also creating openings in front of the greens to accommodate the everyday player at the public course. Furman University Golf Club was built in two phases in the late 1950s. It was a collaboration of architect R.K. Webel and Walter Cosby, superintendent of the famed Greenbrier in West Virginia.

"The original designers did an excellent job routing the course over a beautiful piece of rolling topography, but the greens were repetitive, lacked definition and didn't offer strategic variety," Spence said. "We incorporated more of a Donald Ross look to the green complexes with raised fill pads, and bunkers cut tight to the greens with steep grass faces." Spence said the end result is a better all around golf course, one that can be ratcheted up for high-level tournament play. "We have two very competitive nationally-ranked golf teams," said head professional Kevin Dehlinger. "The golf course had to be tournament ready and tournament difficult, yet able to be set up on a day-to-day basis for the average golfer. Kris accomplished that. We have areas to tuck pins for tournament play, but other areas for daily pins that are fair to average players." In addition to a complete redesign and reconstruction of the greens, Spence added a dozen fairway bunkers and new tees on five holes. An updated irrigation system was installed around the greens, which were resurfaced in Champion Bermuda, the latest hybrid Bermuda grass for greens. Length was added on four holes to bring the total yardage to 6,993 from the purple tees. Other yardages are now: 6,500 yards (black tees), 6,009 yards (white) and 5,281 yards

(lavender). "Modern technology had rendered the course fairly easy to play for college players," said Dehlinger. "Furman has alumni like Dottie Pepper, Beth Daniel, Brad Faxon, Betsy King and Sheir Turner. That's the legacy of our golf teams and now our teams have a course that matches the legacy. "Said Spence." Its a sharper, more well defined course with a much more distinct and unique look. The greens are very memorable and certainly not repretive."

Carolinas Senior Amateur Championship

Roaring Gap NC: Fog was the toughest competitor in the Carolinas Senior Amateur Championship. Rounds two and three were cancelled due to the soup like fog that refused to leave the Roaring Gap Club. After halting the second round at 11:30 on Wednesday and waiting for adequate visibility until 3 pm, it was decided to resume play at 9 am on Thursday and make it a 36 hole tournament. The fog on Thursday was even thicker and after two more delays Paul Simson was declared the winner with an 18 hole score of six under par 65. When play was stopped during the second round Simson was 2 over through six holes. Frank Ford of Charleston, SC was three under through seven and had narrowed Paul's lead to just two. "I was really looking forward to a battle with Frank and am disappointed but I'll take the win," said Simson. This victory gives Paul his 19th CGA Championship.

Carolinas Interclub News and Notables:

First round playoff matches have concluded and 16 teams are "movin" on to round 2. Some highlights and notables below are:

% Willow Springs CC (Wilson, NC), probably considered the overall favorite going into this years playoffs following a strong runner-up finish in 2007, was upended by Devils Ridge (Fuquay Varina, NC) 19-17. Devils Ridge will play River Ridge (no relation) of Raleigh, NC in hopes of continuing their run.

% Out of 16 first round matches, only 2 went to sudden death to determine the winners (Myers Park and the Links @ Stoney Point). Congratulations to both clubs as they prepare for round 2.

Driving is about seventy-five percent mental, so I believe in giving the ball some sweet talk on the tee. "This isn't going to hurt a bit," I whisper under my breath, "Sambo is just going to give you a little ride."

CGA NEWS

1st N.C. Super Senior Championship of the Carolinas Golf Association

GREENSBORO CC TO HOST CGA'S
INAUGURAL N.C. SUPER SR.
CHAMPIONSHIP, SEPT. 30-OCT. 1

WEST END, NC — The inaugural N.C. Super Senior Championship of the Carolinas Golf Association will be played Sept. 30-Oct. 1 on Greensboro Country Club's Donald Ross-designed Irving Park Course. The 36-hole stroke play event for male golfers ages 65 and over replaces the Super Senior divisions that were removed from both the Carolinas Senior Amateur Championship and the North Carolina Senior Amateur championship. The field of 98 golfers is headed by Larry Boswell of Jamestown, NC, who has amassed a most impressive record in CGA events over the years. Boswell is a five-time winner of the Carolinas Mid-Amateur, a former South Carolina Amateur champion, the 1998 Carolinas Senior Champion, and winner of the 2002 N.C. Senior Four-Ball title and two Carolinas Senior Four-Ball titles with partner Ronnie Grove of Raleigh. The tournament will be played on the 6,014 yard, par-71 Irving Park course that opened for play in 1909, the same year the Carolinas Golf Association was founded. This will be the 11th time that a CGA championship has been played at Greensboro Country Club. For more information about the 1st N.C. Super Senior Championship at Greensboro CC and other CGA events, visit the Championship Home Page online at www.carolinasgolf.org.
